Raleigh Neurology's Dr. Keith L. Hull to Speak at Parkinson's Research Forum

Upcoming research forum will feature clinical research from local health care providers

Raleigh, N.C. (March, 2011) – Raleigh Neurology Associates' Dr. Keith L. Hull is pleased to be a part of an upcoming research forum, "Partners in Progress: The Essential Role that People with Parkinson's Play in Clinical Research." The research forum features a series of informational sessions and will be held on Saturday, April 30th, 2011 from 11:00am to 2:00pm at The Marriott at Research Triangle Park.

The forum will feature information on the latest research studies being conducted in the Research Triangle area and will recognize the contributions of Parkinson's clinical research participants. The program is being presented by the Triangle area's most prestigious medical centers and providers, including Duke University Medical Center's Movement Disorders Program, UNC Department of Neurology's Movement Disorder Center, and Raleigh Neurology Associates in collaboration with The Parkinson's Disease Foundation. Event speakers will highlight the importance of Parkinson's patients' participation in clinical trials, while also offering audience members and potential clinical trial participants the opportunity to meet research teams and lead trial doctors.

Dr. Hull co-founded Raleigh Neurology Associates in 1983 and is a member of the American Medical Association, American Academy of Neurology and Movement Disorder Society. He has been actively involved in many areas of community service throughout his medical career including, Former Chapter President of Muscular Dystrophy Association, Chairman of the Wake County Board of Mental Health Development Disabilities and Substance Abuse Services, founder of CASA, and founder and medical adviser for the Parkinson's Center of Raleigh, which is a nonprofit agency devoted to educating and supporting persons with Parkinson's disease.

Dr. Hull's investment in the well-being of the Triangle community has deep roots and his passion for finding a cure for Parkinson's is evident. Dr. Hull and his colleagues in the community invite patients, friends, and members of the Triangle community to attend the research forum and learn about the opportunities that clinical research can offer in terms of prevention, discovery of treatments, and a cure for Parkinson's disease.

About Raleigh Neurology Associates:

Founded in 1983 by Dr. Keith L. Hull, Jr. and Dr. S. Mitchell Freedman, Raleigh Neurology Associates is now one of the largest neurology practices in the southeast. Raleigh Neurology Associates has grown in its 28 year history to a thriving neurology practice with two convenient locations throughout the Triangle, providing comprehensive neurological care for over 250,000 people in our community. While the practice's increasing size enables Raleigh Neurology Associates to offer highly-skilled specialists in many different neurological areas, it strives to maintain the same personal patient/physician relationships on which the practice was originally founded.
